He started to slalom just before he turned four. Jumped in his first tournament at the age of 5, and entered his first nationals at age 8. Jason says his greatest influence has been his parents. "They kept me going even when I wanted to quit when I was younger."
- It's a good thing they did. Jason has already won many titles and has set several National Records.

- His future goals are to become a World Overall Champion some day, and by the looks of things, it's doesn't look like this day if too far off.
