Athlete Profile

- Anthony was on the cover of SBC Wake 09.
- He was a part of Billabong's "Out of the Pond" movie, which was voted Best Movie of the Year at the Wake Awards 09
- His future wakeboarding goal is to keep riding and having fun. "It would be a dream come true to do this as a career."
- Outside of wakeboarding, Anthony is in the process of getting his business degree. He is very interested in the options trading market.
- Anthony has many nicknames: "Twon", "Co-hollick", and his favourite "T-hunda 3000"
- When asked what 3 things he would bring to an isolated island, he responded: "cooking utensils, a hatchet, and the girl of my dreams or my best friend. Depending who wanted to come with me"
- When asked who he would have dinner with if it could be anyone in the world, Anthony responded: "Tough question. Charles Darwin would be up there, Albert Einstein, a potential million dollar sponsor...but probably Megan Fox."
- Anthony says he looks up to a lot of guys in his sport who are unbelievably consistent because it takes a lot of work, determination and talent. He also looks up to his parents, his dad especially.
